Rules for Disciplining Children:

- Hitting a child under two years of age is wrong and harmful because spanking has no value with very young children, and can destroy a child's sense of security and self-esteem. Children under two do not have the cognitive ability to understand why someone is spanking them.
- Corporal punishment of teenagers is not helpful and it is potentially harmful to use force on teenagers because it achieves only short-term obedience, and may alienate the youth and promote aggressive or other anti-social behaviour.
